PILLOW TALK

Sleep on this: non-recycled plastic bottles sit in landfills for some 700 years before they start to decompose. Hollander Home Fashions introduces Natural Elements, an eco-friendly pillow that is filled with as many as 40 post-consumer recycled, green soda bottles. Hollander takes last night's empty and discarded soda bottle, and turns it into a comfortable and environmentally sustainable material for you to sleep on. An unbleached, non-dyed, soft-to-the-touch cotton shell goes around it all. Natural Elements is currently available at Marshalls, TJ Maxx and Home Goods with suggested retail prices ranging from $9.99 to $19.99
